“ My cousin Jody. We were the same age, and while growing up, we were always together. Spending the night or weekend at one or the other's house. I can still remember eating thanksgiving dinner together, on top of the chicken house. Jody, you are loved, but never will be forgotten by me. You were always my favorite cousin. Love You Always, and see you in Heaven, You know I could go on forever, telling stories, of us growing up.

“ Jody, even as a young child you were fearless. You did things that amazed everyone. Like the time we pulled up to a creek and you could barely walk, but that didn't stop you from running to the rope swing to swing out and drop into the creek and go straight to the bottom! You always had a story to tell and a smile on your face. You will be greatly missed. In the last few years I didn't see you very often but now I miss you. My condolences to Aunt Nita and Uncle Sonny and all the kids. Don't dwell on the sadness, but remember all the good times.

“ when I came into this world, I was greeted by a little 3 year old boy named Joel Logan Terry. He was my oldest brother, and for reasons unknown to me, we always called him Jody. From then on it was an adventure somebody needs to write a book about, I cant even begin to relate all the crazy, fun (and not so fun)things we got into growing up together. It was truly a blessing to be welcomed into this world by someone like Jody, and to have the 44 years of memories of him etched into my mind. The first thing I would like to ask God someday is "What did I do to deserve such a wonderful family, and a Big brother like Jody?" We love you and miss you deeply brother.

“ I didn't really know Jody that well, but every time I saw him he made me feel like part of the family. Like I had always been part of the Terry family, not just his brother's girlfriend. He was funny, and I always had a good time with him. I will always remember last Christmas when he, Lorne, and I went and saw King Kong on the big screen.

Jody, you are loved and will be greatly missed, love ya like a brother, Cool ED.

“ Well brother, what can I say? We were about as close as two bros could be, there are so many memories, way to many to tell. There is no way possible to put into words what you meant to me and the impact you made on my life. Your heart was pure as gold and everyone whom ever had the privilege of knowing you got to experience that, and for that, I am thankful. I am more thankful that you were my brother and I will love you and hold you extremely close to my heart forever. You were truly the best and I will miss you more than words could ever say.

“ The Terry family has been like my own family since the summer of 1972. They bought the house of my grandparents after the death of my grandmother and we became the best of friends. I don't think they missed west Tulsa in the least once they arrived. I broke horses for people in the area, so it seemed there was always fun at hand. Jody was amazing and hilariously funny, but more than anything brave. When I think back, he was a city boy, and not afraid to do whatever he set his mind to. I wish so much we would act on intuition to see the people we love as often as it comes to us. I lost alot of time away from Jody when he went to New York. We never seem to get that time back. I will always remember Jody as my best friend ever.

“ LOGAN WAS ALWAYS SO KIND TO ME AND EVERYONE AT THE PHARMACY AND AS ANYONE THAT KNEW HIM KNOWS, HE ALWAYS WAS WILLING TO OFFER A HELPING HAND. I CAN'T COUNT THE TIMES HE OFFERED TO DELIVER PRESCRIPTIONS OR RUN ERRANDS AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE. I'M GLAD HE CONSIDERED ME A FRIEND!

“ In 1977 or 78, I lived south of Mounds. We had the worse ice storm I have ever seen. Nobody could get to the stores, but Joel made it out somehow. He was going to pick-up supplies for other people in a very small car. He stopped by my place to see if I needed anything. I would have gone with him, but he only had enough room for himself and the supplies he was getting. I thought to myself as he was leaving, now I know what a (good samaritan) really is. I will keep his friendship in my heart, always.
