“ Randy,

Was Shasta glad to see you? I know I'll be happy when I see you again. For years you were my friend, my love, my fellow traveler in life. It's hard to imagine not being able to call, sit out on the porch and talk about a million things.

Nebula stone hearts, flutes in the Taj Mahal, shish-k-bobs on top of the mountain. Some of the best memories of my life were spent with you. I treasure them. I treasure you. Enjoy the light. See you someday soon.

Love,

Debi (AKA....EarthMum)

“ Dear Hicks Family,
We learned of Randy's death yesterday. We refused to believe it, because he was our neighbor & friend. We will miss the hours talking on the front porch, pictures of your 40 acres, chatting about family, health and the good old days in Tulsa. Dear Randy, thanks for leaving me the book and the note so recently. I will miss your drive-by hellos and your help around the house. We are forever touched by your life! Cindy & Bill McClure
